Samuel is just an ordinary kid...
How could he ever become one of Santa's elves?

Samuel et la tuque de Noël

Text by Art Richard et Chantal Pelletier Richard
Illustrated by Isabelle Léger

Synopsis

Samuel is a scaredy-cat, scared of cats. He doesn't get close to them. But this one winter day, he sees a little kitten outside and decides to take it home...
Later, as Samuel is busy making snow angels, three flakes fall on his nose and offer him a job as one of Santa's elves... But Samuel is just a boy like any other; how could he ever be a brave and serviceable elf and win the famous Christmas toque?
Followed by the song by Art Richard, this cinnamon-infused story will get everyone in the Christmas spirit.

Features

- A story about self confidence and overcoming one's fears;
- A first book by a well-known Acadian youth facilitator and singer;
- A book using a font accessible to people with print disabilities such as dyslexia;
- A little Christmas magic to warm hearts and give courage!

The authors

Singer-songwriter of over a hundred songs, Art Richard was selected in the finalists of the East Coast Music Industry Awards four times. He also participated in several well-known festivals such as the New Orleans Jazz Festival. His educative and interative shows are a success with kids everywhere he goes.

Chantal Pelletier-Richard is an immersion teacher. Passionate about children's books, she spent a lot of career as assistant librarian. During all those years, she facilitated story time, which inspired her to write her first picture book.

The illustrator

From Dieppe, New-Brunswick, Isabelle Léger is passionate about illustration. After attending the visual arts program at the University of Moncton, she graduated in graphic design at the New-Brunswick Community College. Her first picture book, Congé pour maman, came out in 2018.
