Kindergarten – Primary – Immersion – Remembrance Day

Cling, clang, cling...
To the rhythm of her grandpa's medals,
Aly discovers Remembrance Day.

Synopsis

Aly spends Remembrance Day with her great-grandfather. The latter is all dressed up, beret on his head and medals lined up on his veteran's chest. Cling, clang, cling... One medal at a time, Aly discovers what her grandfather experienced in Normandy, the origin and meaning of the poppy and the importance of this day.

About the creators

Marie-France Comeau is Acadian and lives in Baie des Chaleurs, northern New Brunswick. Her first story, L'étoile dans la pomme, won her the Dr Marilyn Trenholme Counsell Literacy Award and is a Bouton d'or Acadie best-seller. Author of Diego l'escargot and Le Pit à papa, Marie-France Comeau never stops creating and travelling to tell her stories.

Jean Luc Trudel became an illustrator after several detours: stained glass maker, printer, computer graphic artist, he has graced Bouton d'or Acadie with such beautifully illustrated books as Le pit à papa (2015), My Two Grandmothers (2016), Meet Me at Green Gables (2017) and Tommy Tempête (2021).
