

4 to 8 years old

Preschool – Primary school – Families – Immersion

Léo les chaussettes

Written by Christine Arbour
Illustrated by Johanna Lezziero

French language book (world rights available)

Technical specifications

Étagère TROTTINETTE
ISBN (paperback): 978-2-89750-306-2
ISBN (PDF): 978-2-89750-307-9
ISBN (ePUB): 978-2-89750-308-6
32 pages
10,75 x 9.25 po
$ 15,95 (hardcover)
$ 4,99 (pdf & ePUB)

Distributed by PROLOGUE

1650, Lionel-Bertrand
Boisbriand (Qc)
J7H 1N7 Canada
Phone: (613) 601-4507
Fax: (613) 562-3320
Toll free: 1-800-363-2864
prologue@prologue.ca
www.prologue.ca

Features

- To celebrate the uniqueness of every human being.
- To discover a welcoming community and place of learning.
- For a family and community life that goes beyond prejudice.
- For a touching brotherly relationship that is off the beaten track.
- For a story that is fun and full of sweetness.
- For Johanna Lezziero's beautifully detailed illustrations.

Leo's childlike heart and mind live in an adult body.

Synopsis

Today is Leo's birthday, and his younger brother is planning a surprise for him. Who is Leo? Leo is Leo! One by one, the people who work with him every day join in the party parade. We discover what makes Léo unique and so endearing. It's not just a birthday party we're celebrating, but also a very special person.

About the creators

Christine Arbour lives in Quebec City in a lively neighbourhood full of giant trees. She can see the St. Lawrence River in the distance, which reminds her of her Gaspé origins. After Grandes roues et petits pois (2018) and La boîte aux belles choses (2020), finalist for the Prix littéraires des enseignants de français 2021, she presents her third illustrated album.

Originally from France, Johanna Lezziero now lives near the Bay of Fundy. Passionate about drawing and the animal world, she spent 10 years in the world of children's fashion as a textile designer. This is the second time she has illustrated a story by Christine Arbour, after La boîte aux belles choses in 2020.

